About the Author

Following graduation from veterinary school, Dr. Quesenberry joined the Chino Valley Veterinary Group and practiced there as a dairy vet for 2 years before he and his wife Mary went to Nepal in 1980. In Nepal he worked to further establish a clinic and an animal health training program for farmers. In addition, he helped train veterinary technicians for the government of Nepal and wrote curricula and textbooks. In 1990 Dr. Quesenberry returned to the States and completed his masters before returning to Asia in 1991. Dr. Quesenberry is currently serving as an advisor to local foundation and lives in the very northern tip of Thailand, in Chiang Rai. Peter and his wife Mary have 3 children. Nat and Cheri were born in Nepal, and Wynn was born in Thailand. The whole family was actively involved with the “Where There Is No Animal Doctor” / “Handbook of Animal Health” project and sincerely hopes it will impact many peoples’ lives in a positive way.
